TERMS AND CONDITIONS

The RMS's Road User Handbook states that motorists, when entering or leaving a driveway, must give way to pedestrians and other vehicles.

Conditions of Linemarking the Road to delineate your driveway.

1. Rule No 198 of the New South Wales Road Rules states that a vehicle is deemed to be illegally parked if it is parked in a manner that completely or partially blocks a driveway access. By this definition, the edge of the driveway is taken as the point whereby the kerb changes from a standard kerb to that of the driveway.
2. Accordingly, the marking of lines on the road to delineate a driveway has no legal standing in the event of a vehicle overhanging these lines.
3. Should the lines fade you are responsible for the remarking of the new lines. This will entail a new application for Driveway Linemarking to be completed and payment made.

DECLARATION

I, the undersigned, declare the above information is correct in every detail and agree to the Council linemarking the road to indicate the driveway to my property, as stated above.
