Randwick Council is building a 950 metre formalised walkway through part of the Kamay Botany Bay National Park.

It will connect the end of the Cape Banks Walking Track through NSW Golf Course to the National Park car park, providing a safe and continuous walking track.

These works will include a concrete path, lowered by 1 metre and with landscaped coastal vegetation on either side to protect walkers travelling across the golf green, and a 2m mesh boardwalk over a section of wetland.

Please note that access to parts of the Henry Head Walking Track will be closed during construction. The walkway is due to be re-opened in early 2019.

The extension of this track is part of Randwick Council’s commitment to completing the Coastal Walkway.
